Scene 3 - The bedroom of the Lord Mayor of London

Enter Narrator 1 and 2, Servant and the Lord Mayor of London.

Narrator 1: The Lord Mayor slept soundly in his warm bed in his house on the far side of London.

Narrator 2: His servant knocked wildly on his large, oak door.

Servant: Sir? You need to wake up, Sir! I know that it is the middle of the night but you are needed now.

Lord Mayor: What is the meaning of this?
